

Dr. John Dawsey

`{slimbox align=|right| padding=|5| title=|Dr. John Dawsey| album=|Doctors of Hazleton Imaging|}images/stories/docs/dawsey_john.jpg{/slimbox}`Dr. John Dawsey graduated Magna Cum Laude from Albright College, Reading, PA, with his Bachelor of Science degree in biochemistry. He received his medical training from Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia and completed his radiology residency at the Bryn Mawr Hospital in Bryn Mawr, PA. Following his residency, Dr. Dawsey completed a fellowship in cardiovascular and interventional radiology at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital in Philadelphia, PA. His interests include all aspects of general radiology, vascular and cross-sectional imaging. Dr. Dawsey is adept at minimally invasive diagnostic and therapeutic interventions, which lend themselves well to the outpatient setting.